

Select Language

Select Language

Powered by Google Translate

Powered by Google Translate

Search text

HOME

POPs Recycling Contaminates Children's Toys with Toxic Flame Retardants (November 2017)

The original version of this document with multiple language documents of the executive summary is located here.

Document:

Attachment	Size
 English	1.91 MB

POPS RECYCLING CONTAMINATES
CHILDREN'S TOYS WITH TOXIC FLAME
RETARDANTS

Joseph DiGangi, Ph.D.
Jitka Strakova
Lee Bell
Updated November 2017

Document Type: Booklet

IPEN Secretariat:
ipen@ipen.org

@ToxicsFree

IPEN is a unique global network of people and public interest organizations, which respects and enjoys a wide diversity of cultures, skills and knowledge. Together we share a common commitment to achieve a toxic-free future where chemical production, use and disposal does not harm people and the environment.

IPEN is registered in Sweden as a non-profit, public interest organization.